Manually entered Comments: Ridiculous decision, entrance road through 2 estates is not adequate to cope with extra traffic of approx 100+. Been living in my house for 21 years and was told we would never be overlooked as planning would never be allowed in those fields. We've had a constant building site for years due to farmer selling plots of a couple at a time. Constant disruption, noise and extra traffic and that's just for 1 or 2 plots. 2 years ago there was issues with phosphorus limits, has this been addressed? We already have inadequate parking on the first estate and there are constantly vehicles parked on the pavement, access from the road is dangerous as views are constantly restricted. Another 120+ cars adding to this is dangerous and ridiculous especially coming off a very busy road where no one sticks to the speed limit and often cars overtake a slower driver. An alternative site would be the one the opposite side which would have an entrance higher up into the village where the traffic is slower
