

Pembrokeshire County Council's Education Inclusion Programme

Including all Learners

Pembrokeshire County Council is committed to promoting achievement and wellbeing for all children and young people, including those with ALN, so that they have access to the same opportunities and services as everybody else.

In the policy for Educational Inclusion, it sets out a number of principles which guide the delivery of inclusive education opportunities.

In particular, the policy states that the overwhelming majority of school-age learners can and should be educated with others of their own age in their local community school which is properly equipped and fit for purpose.

To do this, an inclusion strategy has been developed which sets out clearly the agenda for changes and is based on five key strands:

KEY STRANDS

- Getting the climate right – vision, policy and culture.
- Building capacity to ensure staff have the confidence, expertise and access to specialist support to enable this to happen.
- Having a Quality Assurance Framework to ensure the best possible outcomes for children and young people are achieved.
- Maximising the use of resources and provision to ensure we make the most effective use of them..
- Developing strong partnerships within local areas.

Systems Approach

The key strands will work together through a cycle whereby school and service provision is reviewed and, as a result of the findings, a programme implemented in order to ensure the needs of the learners, including ALN, are met. The figure below illustrates the key areas of activity taking place:
