

There is a new lockdown rule in Wales

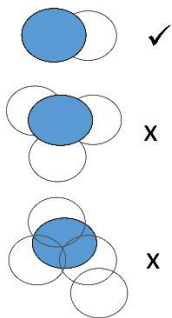

It starts on 6th July

It means you can join with one other household

A household is where you live. It could be a family. Or housemates.

Each household can only join with one other.

So if you share a house, you will have to choose.

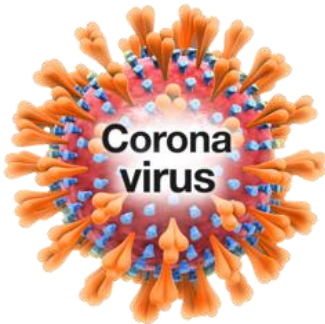

If you join with another household, you can visit them

And stay overnight

You must still be careful

The virus is still there

If you are shielding, it is not wise to do this

Remember, rules are different in Wales and England.

We must follow Wales rules.
