

New Wales rules

Update 2nd November

We need to stick to Wales rules.

Mark Drakeford gave some news today.

This is what we need to do after the firebreak ends.

The firebreak ends on 9th November.

Most of all, he said we need to be careful.

These are the rules, but all of us must:

- Keep our distance
- Wash our hands
- Wear our masks
- See as few people as possible

From 9th November:

Shops can open again

And hairdressers

And gyms

And pubs and restaurants

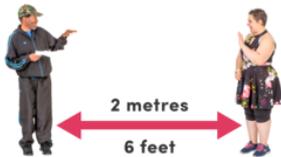

You can form a bubble with one other family and meet them in your home.

15

Up to 15 people can meet indoors to do an activity (like PPF)

30

And up to 30 outside

But you must keep a distance

There will be rules for cafes and pubs and restaurants.
He will tell us those soon

You can travel within Wales

But travel as little as possible.
And stay at home if you can.

If the virus gets worse again, these things will stop.

Tell someone if you feel ill, so you can isolate.

We hope things are getting better.

And want to say "well done" to everyone for coping with this.

But please stay safe.
